

TYPEFACE

The quarterly magazine of the British Association for Psychological Type

LINKING THE TYPE COMMUNITY

HAPPY 21ST
BIRTHDAY
TO BAPT!

CONTENTS

This Issue’s Motto – ENFP (Andi Lothian)	4
President’s Column (Wynn Rees)	5
Wynn reflects on his experiences and shares his thoughts following the BAPT Conference in March
BAPT Conference Report (Nancy Silcox and others)	6
Nancy has compiled reports of all the sessions from this year’s Conference, with help from others present, to give a flavour of what took place for those who were unable to attend
“Reading and Listening to Scripture through the Lens of Psychological Type” (Karen West)	22
Report of BAPT Southern Area Group Workshop led by Leslie Francis in February
Aloha from Hawaii – Reflections from the Psychological Type and Culture Research Seminar – January, 2010 (Clare Howard)	24
Clare gives an overview of the sessions held at this Conference located in the paradise island of Hawaii amidst a wonderful setting in the middle of the Pacific Ocean surrounded by palm trees
News from Across the Pond (Jennifer Selby Long)	28
Jennifer, President of APTi for 2010, reflects on their Conference held in 2009 and their plans for the future
BAPT Workshop on Applied Type Dynamics (Angelina Bennet)	29
Angelina gives a brief report on feedback received following this workshop held in January
Words of Wisdom from the Master (Carl Jung)	29
Management & Organizational Development:	30
Managing Performance using Type Knowledge (Susan Nash)
Susan contrasts two managers, one having ENTJ preferences and the other ESFJ, highlighting their differences using multiple lenses and lessons learned from the approach
Psychotherapy & Counselling:	33
Counselling in the Credit Crunch (Julia McGuinness)
Julia highlights the lessons learned from applying type knowledge to the difficulties individuals encounter in the workplace during a recession
Research Corner (Angelina Bennet)	35
Angelina reviews recent articles from the Journal of Psychological Type and brings research news to the membership
Typewatching at the Cinema: “Nanny Types” (Peter Malone)	37
Peter reflects on the different nannies that have been portrayed in movies, including the most recent one Nanny McPhee and the Big Bang and questions whether there is, in fact, a ‘nanny type’	