

TYPEFACE

The quarterly magazine of the British Association for Psychological Type

LINKING THE TYPE COMMUNITY

REMEMBER
BAPT CONFERENCE
5-7 MARCH!

CONTENTS

| | |
|---|-----------|
| President’s Column (Wynn Rees) | 5 |
| Wynn highlights the upcoming conferences, BAPT and the European APT in Berlin. He also reflects on the difficulties of sustaining BAPT with our current small membership and increasing costs. | |
| Myers Briggs Follow Up Group Reunion (Sally Campbell) | 7 |
| Sally reports on the weekend held in October and the personal journeys they explored through guided exercises | |
| Words of Wisdom from the Master! | 8 |
| The latest in the series featuring quotations from Carl Jung. | |
| The New Type Community (Vicky Jo Varner) | 10 |
| Vicky Jo, a type practitioner in California, writes about the impact of the Internet on the practice of type on a global scale, particularly the availability of numerous un-validated on-line questionnaires claiming to identify type preferences. | |
| Careers & Occupations: Knowing Yourself Makes Informational Interviewing a Success (Katherine and Elizabeth Hirsh) | 14 |
| Katharine and Elizabeth describe the role of informational interviewing in the career guidance domain and how type impacts on this. | |
| Multicultural Issues: Historical Perspectives of Culture (Sally Campbell) | 16 |
| Sally reflects on the personal life account of a German-Canadian who grew up as a teenager in Leipzig during World War 2 and the socialization imposed by the Hitler Youth Movement. Secondly, she describes some issues raised during the Multicultural and Research Symposia at the Dallas Conference. | |
| Religion & Spirituality: Theological Reflection and Personality Type (Jennifer Morton) | 18 |
| Jenny discusses the concept of theological reflection and the connection between students’ success and their psychological type. She argues the traditional approaches to theological reflection favour certain type preferences and leave others with little but a sense of failure. | |
| Research Corner – Angelina Bennet | 21 |
| Angelina reviews the latest research articles that have appeared in the Journal of Psychological Type and shares other research news. | |
| Book Review: “Looking at Type & Spirituality” (John Lloyd) | 23 |
| John reviews this book by Sandra Krebs Hirsh and Jane Kise, published by CAPT. A copy is in the BAPT Library and available for borrowing. | |
| This Issue’s Motto – ISTP (Jo Maddocks) | 24 |
| Typewatching at the Cinema “An Education” (Peter Malone) | 26 |
| Peter Malone reviews this recently released film which deals with the sensitive issue of a teenage schoolgirl’s attraction to an older man, in the context of the 1960s as London escapes the straitjacket of post-war Britain into a freer environment. | |
| Guess the Type of Sir Patrick Stewart (Nancy Silcox) | 28 |
| Nancy puts forward her reasons for suggesting Patrick Stewart’s likely type preferences and invites you to let her know what you think German Chancellor, Angela Merkel’s might be. | |
| Types of Furniture (Nancy Silcox) | 30 |
| Nancy suggests that the types of furniture we buy are influenced by our type preference | |