

TYPE MAPPING for Experienced Users

This workshop is for Type practitioners who want to combine better, quicker, more effective exploration of Type. You will gain access to the Type Mapping system, an integrated set of Type-based questionnaires which shines a light to help with performance and satisfaction and provides an invaluable source of information for executive coaching, management development and team dynamics.

Psychological Type is one of the most powerful models for stimulating the personal insight that is core to development. The TDI® gives you a window into the far-reaching model of Type that can be applied to:

- Communication
- team working
- work styles and relationships
- Leadership
- Learning
- career choice
- development needs
- problem-solving
- dealing with conflict
- managing change
- getting results

As an extension of this we include working with team behaviour and personal contributions. Use MTR-i™ and ITPOQ to help uncover what a team does and what it should be doing. Unlike other questionnaires it addresses team behaviour directly. Used alongside the personality and preference questionnaires it introduces a clear behavioural link to tasks, activities and work challenges.

This day will be:

Practical - learn other ways of introducing Type and making it real for your clients;

Stretching - challenge your own understanding of the Type model and your own concept of who you are!

Stimulating - link Type to other models including team roles, learning style and life functions so that you can offer a flexible, integrated approach to individual and team development.
