

The British Association for Psychological Type

Presents

Personality in Context

A one day experiential conference exploring personality from 3 different perspectives

Friday 4th November 2016, 9.30—4.30

London Metropolitan University

106 Holloway Road, N7 8DB

This conference is designed specifically for students studying Psychology at Masters level. The day offers an opportunity to explore your own personality and to learn about the practical applications of personality in a variety of Psychology based professions including Occupational, Coaching, Counselling, Developmental, Clinical and Forensic. The 3 perspectives are Psychological Type, Personality Trait and Emotional Intelligence and the sessions will be facilitated by leading experts in the field.

Tickets cost £10 from www.bapt.org.uk/4-nov-student-conference.html

Contact president@bapt.org.uk for more information

This conference is subsidised by BAPT—a charitable organisation aimed at promoting understanding of individual differences.

BAPT Registered Charity no: 1045772